

PRESS STATEMENT

GPCC SUPPORTS “THE PROMOTION OF PROPER HUMAN SEXUAL RIGHTS AND GHANAIAN FAMILY VALUES BILL, 2021”

26th July, 2021

The Ghana Pentecostal and Charismatic Council (GPCC) wishes to state its official position on the raging debate on “The Promotion of Proper Human Sexual Rights and Ghanaian Family Values Bill, 2021”. The Ghana Pentecostal and Charismatic Council (GPCC) are members of the National Coalition for Proper Human Sexual Rights and Family Values, one of the promoters of this Bill and we are in full support of the Bill recently presented to Parliament for passage into law. We have participated and supported in the drafting of the current Bill and would continue to give our full support to the consultative processes leading to its fine-tuning and passage into law by Parliament.

The Council’s position on this new bill stems from its long standing and consistent biblical position on the preservation of God’s original plan for Marriage, procreation and the preservation of the Family value system and any attempt to pervert this system would be fiercely resisted through all spiritual, physical and legal means.

In its current form, we are not oblivious of the fact that there is still room for improvement on this bill and as such we call on all Ghanaians, especially our constituents to contribute through intellectually stimulating debates devoid of insults and name-calling when the debate on this bill is opened to ensure that at the end of the day we have a better and well-drafted Bill and ultimately a law that meets our collective socio-cultural, traditional and religious aspirations as a people without threats and intimidation from forces within and without.

As a Council, we have consistently demonstrated our abhorrence to such practices and theories that seek to denigrate our long cherished family values in press statements we have issued against the opening of an LGBTQI+ Advocacy Centre in Accra and the
